Joanne Moore, Writing4Results Workshop

In meetings at our Professional Development Planning Committee, Joanne Moore's work was recommended by a teacher who had attended one of her workshops. The committee was impressed with the descriptions of her work and her references so her workshop was selected as a feature presentation for our teacher's convention in February 2005.

Ms. Moore's presented to approximately 60 educators locally. Although I did not attend, the evaluations clearly indicated that teachers found her content to be credible, well-researched, and her proposed methods to be practical in application in the classroom. There was interest in having Ms. Moore return to follow up on the work she began with us.

Based on the information I received, and on my direct dealings with her and her staff, I recommend Ms. Moore as a presenter for teacher conventions.

Sincerely,
